1. Welcome to ACA Screen Recorder

ACA Screen Recorder records the action from your Windows screen and saves it as a standard, easily edited, AVI (Audio-Video Interleaved) movie file. This format can be played under Windows, as well as the Internet, unlike other programs that use proprietary formats that may need special viewers and be difficult, if not impossible, to edit.

This help files is designed to get you started with ACA Screen Recorder quickly.

4. Contact ACASystems

Before contacting us for technical support, please check first the "Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)" list at our web site, the answer to your question may be already there! Click below to access the FAQ page right from within the help system:

FAQ URL: http://www.acasystems.com/en/faq.htm

Support for ACA Screen Recorder is always close at hand, a support ticket will get the quickest response. Be certain to provide as much background information as possible.

Ticket Support Systems: http://www.acasystems.com/support/

Include (at least) the following information if you encounter a problem with the software:

- Your operating system, for example Windows Vista, Windows XP Professional or Windows 2000 Professional.
- How much RAM your computer has installed (sometimes called "memory" but different from "hard disk space," something about which many novice users get understandably confused). If you don't know how to check this, open an Explorer window (not Internet Explorer, Windows Explorer) and select Help/About. It should show you a listing on the bottom of the dialog: Physical memory available to Windows. That will give you the RAM, but not swap file, available to the system for most versions of Windows.
- Your computer's CPU and speed (for example, Pentium IV, 2GHZ).
- A concise description of the problem and exactly what you did to get it to happen. If you can get it to repeat at will, please give us every step from beginning until the end, that will help us replicate your problem. Explain it so we can re-create it here, and we'll do our best to find out what causes it and get back to you with a possible solution.

You can contact us with ACASystems Support Systems: http://www.acasystems.com/support/.

• Reset button: reset the next position of filename template.

Example:

The file save folder: D:/Document

The file name template: Clip###

The next file name should be: D:/Document/Clip001.avi, D:/Document/Clip002.avi, D:/Document/Clip003.avi, etc.

3. The program will popup a dialog to confirm overwrite the existing file when you start recording. If you won't show this dialog, please check If the file already exists, overwrites existing file option.

9. Screen Area Option

There are two methods for selecting the initial screen area for recording:

1. Full Screen: record the screen from full screen, it depends on your screen resolution, such as 800 by 600 pixels, 1024 by 768 pixels,1280 by 1024 pixels, etc.

- When you click the Select Window button, you can move your cursor around the screen to select various screen objects, such as windows, window areas, buttons, etc. These specific areas will be highlighted as you pass over them. Click the left mouse button to accept the highlighted area, or the right button to abort the selection.
- Clicking on the Select Region button provides a convenient, movable and resizable rectangle to appear on screen. Use your cursor or the keyboard arrows to position and anchor one point of the area, and then size the window to your liking. Note that the image size is interactively shown, and the coordinates recorded in the screen area dialog.
- When you click the Select Fixed Region button, you can move your cursor around the screen to select a fixed with and height region. Click the left mouse button to accept the area, or the right button to abort the selection.
- You can also directly enter your choice of the X and Y screen coordinates, along with the width and height in pixels, to precisely define your capture area, or fine tune a previous capture.

Other options

- Show flashing rectangle when recording: this option determine if a flashing rectangle should be shown around the recorded area or not.
- Show flashing rectangle when paused: this option determine if a flashing rectangle should be shown around the recorded area or not when you paused the recording.
- Auto minimize the main window when recording: this option determine if the main window of ACA Screen Recorder should be minimized or not when recording.

You can right click ACA Screen Recorder's icon on the Windows Taskbar Notification Area When ACA Screen Recorder minimized, as it is shown in the figure:

- 1. The Include mouse pointer when recording check-box will enable or disable the mouse pointer on the video file.
- 2. The Record rate in frames per second choices let you specify how many movie frames per second will be recorded. If you enter too high a number, and your computer is not fast enough to capture and compress them, ACA Screen Recorder will drop some frames, or stop completely and tell you about the error.
- 3. The Video compressor select box allows you to select the CODEC, which is the program that will compress your pictures to make AVI files smaller and enable them to play faster.

We recommend the Auto Select setting, which will select MS RLE compression for 8 bit color mode, Microsoft Video 1 compression for all higher color modes, and no compression for 4 bit color. Please note that if you want to record AVI files in True Color mode (24 or 32 bit), the default Microsoft Video 1 compressor will still write them as 16 color bitmaps, losing some of the color resolution. You may experiment with some other video compressors that are installed on your system. For recording in 16 bits per pixel (65536 colors mode), you could try using Intel Indeo Video codec, which will be about 10-20% faster in compressing, than MS Video 1, the "Auto-Select" choice of ACA Screen Recorder.

- The Record Sound box will enable or disable recordings from your system microphone or other sound input.
- The Device list-box allows you to specify the audio input device of the sound recorded with AVI movies.
- Connector list-box allows you to specify the audio source type. The types of audio input sources you can record from depend on the audio devices you have, as well as on the input sources that are available on the sound card that is installed on your computer.
- You can click Volume Control to launch Windows Sound Manager, and then adjust the audio device properties.
- To adjust the volume balance, drag the Balance slider bar on the right panel.

To increase the volume of recorded sound, drag the Volume slider bar.

• NOTE: on some systems, with sound recording on, you will not hear the sounds normally produced by your computer and the running programs. This is due to the fact that most sound cards and their drivers are working in "half duplex" mode, meaning that they can either record or play sounds, but not both at the same time.
